Cliff,

I do not typically go to the public meetings for BNSF unless we think it is going to be especially contentious with the general public and/or there are threats of third-party claims (neither is the case here as far as I know) but if you and Bob are going to be there and we have some substantive issues to talk about viz. the response action memo EPA intends to issue then I think I can get permission from BNSF to attend for that reason. Nov. 1 is not good for me, however. That entire week I am not able to travel (b) (6) Nov. 6 - 9 all look good for me to travel and that is still within your public comment window (and it gives Bob more time to recuperate!).

Cliff,

Thanks for your message. Craig and I are discussing, and I'm checking with my client. I'll get back to you shortly. (b) (6)

on November 1, the tentative public meeting date. Is that set in stone?

Bob/Craig:

In case you didn't get this proposed schedule forwarded from consultants already. I will definitely plan to attend the public meeting, and expect I'll see you there. If so, maybe we can set aside some time before or after to discuss activities after the action memo is finally signed.

Wallace Yard Public

TENTATIVE

Notice period

Nick,
Renee and I talked about moving forward with WY even though you weren't able to join us. We figured out a tentative schedule and do items for the Wallace Yard EE/CA Public Notice period and need your input. Here is what we've come up with:

Public Review Period: Oct 8 - Nov. 23.
This would allow people that missed announcements a chance to review the document. we could provide a brief verbal announcement at the Nov. 14 BC meeting.

Renee will final the press announcement and get to the newspapers so they run the first week of October.

Nick do you have other suggestions for how to advertise?

Renee plans to use the EPA and IDEQ logo on the announcement, fact sheet, post card. She's going to ask if you have any heartburn with that.

Daryl- do the RRs want their logo on these notices? ==> it's a great

PR op.

Public meeting date Thursday Nov. 1 (Tentative)

Daryl- We'd like to have the RR's participate at these meetings. ==>

PR op.

Brandon/Aaron note these dates for deliverables and production.

Let's finalize this plan and figure out what we need to do to be a reality.
